MR. TERRY WILL HOLD A TEST MEETING Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, at his hall, at 181 O st. n.e.; also a trumpet seance on Friday

Northern Central Cut-Off.

A York, Pa., dispatch says: It was stated here upon semi-official authority that work is to begin on the new Northern Central freight cut-off, which will form a semi-circle about the city of York on its north side. This new line, which will carry all Pennsylvania railroad freight from the north and west to the south, will leave the Northern Central division at a point close to the beginning of the new main line cut-off just south of York Haven.

It will take an almost direct course through Manchester, East Manchester and West Manchester townships till it reaches the vicinity of York, when it will take a course south through Codorus township. It will again tap the Northern Central rail-will again tap the Northern Central railroad division near Brilibart's, a station several miles south of York.

The contract for the building of this cutoff was awarded to H. C. Kerbaugh & Co. at the same time that firm received the construction of the main line freight cut-off by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

RECEPTION GIVEN IN HIS HONOR LAST NIGHT.

National Commander of Army and Navy Union Welcomed by Local Garrison.

National Commander J. Edwin Browne of the Army and Navy Union, U. S. A., who was unanimously elected to that position last Friday at the twelfth biennial encampment of the organization, held in Newburgh, N. Y., was tendered a reception last night at headquarters of Roosevelt Garri- has received a communication from his son, 514 9th street porthwest. The interior uncle, Mr. J. K. Wagner, a millionaire car of the hall was profusely decorated with the national colors, and over the presiding officer's station were hung emblems of the Savior erected at the grave of Mrs.

At 8:15 o'clock Commander Browne, with an escort of aids, entered the hall, and his presence was the occasion of applause which lasted several minutes. Following this enthusiastic welcome, Col. Browne, in company with his aid, was escorted to the stage by the officer of-the guard, Capt. E.
M. Heines. Commander Joseph J. Gordon of Roosevelt Garrison in a brief address welcomed the national commander on behalf of those assembled, and the program opened with the entire gathering singing the national anthem, with plane accom-paniment by L. Von Der Miller. Commander Gordon then introduced Rev. John E. Cox. former national chaplain of the organization of Owensville, Ind., who came especially to Washington on his way home to be present at the reception

Chaplain Cox's Address.

Mr. Cox was the first speaker, and said in part:

"My comrades: I did not want to go to my far-away home in Indiana without paying you a fraternal visit, and I am delighted to be with you tonight. I met your delegates at Newburgh, and through their kind invitation I visited Washington in order to be with you on this occasion. congratulate you on your success in bringing the headquarters of the Army and Navy Union to your fair city, for here it logically should be. Roosevelt Garrison is especially to be congratulated in having as one of its members our national commender." mander.

National Commander Browne said in response: "To say that I am proud of the honor conferred upon me is putting it mildly, comrades, and I pledge you my word that I will do all in my power to promote the weifare of each comrade of our great organization. I deeply feel the kind words expressed tonight and as your national commander I shall do all that I companded to the shall do all that I commanded to the shall be shall the shall be shall commanded to the shall be shall the shall be s tional commander I shall do all that I can to make the Army and Navy Union the foremost soldier organization in the land." Other Responses.

Col. H. L. Dean of Wm. F. Barry Garrison, No. 26, was next called upon and said: 'The Army and Navy Union is a perpetual organization and will continue to be so, because we have a field to recruit from that no other organization of a semi-military nature has. We take in every honorably discharged soldier, sailor and marine who served the American flag. We have in our ranks the gray-haired veteran of the 60's as well as the beardless youths of 1898, and, comrades, I do not exaggerate when I say that from the orange groves of the south to the bleak, icy regions of the north, from eligible men who will in time be numbered in our ranks."

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS FROM COLLECTION OF RARE ANIMALS HEALTH OFFICE SECURING RE-IN QUARANTINE.

> Dr. Cecil French's Experience While Making Purchases-Gorilla Dies at Sea.

Dr. Cecil French of this city, who spent considerable time the past summer in Europe purchasing animals for the Washington and New York zoological parks, and who has just returned, was interviewed today by a Star reporter. He said he brought from the old world for the Washington zoo some rare animals, including a Burrhel sheep, two mouffton, one Thar goat, a Barasingha deer and one nylgau. These interesting specimens are in quarantine outside of New York, and will not reach the Zoological Park for about fifteen days. For the New York zoo Dr. French purchased 100 rare pheasants and European partridges, Egyptian flamingoes, a black alpaca goat, rare reptiles and a queer lit-tle Manchurian pigmy deer. This cute an-imal is but two feet high, and is sometimes termed the "toy deer."

While Dr. French was in London making the collection for the parks, Mr. John Ham-lyn arrived with his large collection of African animals from the French Congo, as described in The Star yesterday. Just as soon as Dr. French heard there was a live gorilla among the arrivals, he cabled to the director of the New York Zoological Park and received a prompt response to pur-chase the gorilla for $1,000. "I bought the animal," said Dr. French, "and was then confronted by the problem of how to transport it to New York. This gorilla was a most delicate animal, and as none of this particular species has ever lived more than a couple of months in captivity, and none had ever crossed the At-lantic, the authorities of the New York zoo realized the great risk they were running to get the big animal to the metropolts. They were, however, willing to take the risk, and I had a special cage constructed in which the gorilla was conveyed to the Hamburg-American steamship Graf Waldersee. A second-class cabin on the steam-er was reserved for the animal and a steward appointed to attend to its needs." Gorilla's Food Supply.

Dr. French added that he purchased a food supply for the gorilla, consisting of hothouse grapes, pineapples, bananas and other things to tempt its appelite. The first day or two out the animal ate very other passengers were raised that the go-rilla would be landed safely.

But on the fourth day at sea the waters became rough and the skies stormy, and the gorilla became morose and refused to eat. On the seventh day it died in a fit of seasickness, to the grief of everybody on board. The body was preserved, and has been sent to the Museum of Natural History at New York.

"In its actions," said Dr. French, "the gorilla was much like a bashful woman. The animal was a female, and as black as a Congo negro. Like an abashed school girl, it would cover its face with its two hands, and, opening them slightly, peer at you, as if overcome by a fit of school girl bashfulness. The gorilla stood five feet high, and its arm was larger than that of of the average man" Dr. French also brought over with him from Germany a small herd of milch goats for his own purposes. These animals, he said, are in demand by physicians in this country, owing to the purity and health-fulness of their milk for children.

PORTS OF BIRTHS PROMPTLY.

Health office authorities are pleased at the result of their recently inaugurated crusade to secure more prompt reports from physicians and midwives of births within the District. About three weeks ago the health officer called the attention of practitioners to the requirements of the law, and also to the penalty attached to violations. Ever since, the natural increase in population of the city and county has been recorded with gratifying regularity. The weekly report of the health office for the seven days ended last Saturday, which was issued today, shows the extent to which this recent order has operated-the authorities being enabled to announce a total of 1:6 births. Last week there were 134.

As was exclusively stated in The Star, in connection with the publication of the weekly health report last Wednesday, the percentage of mortality for the middle of September has been almost invariably lower than at any other time during the year. The current weekly report indicates an increase in deaths similar to that which has usually followed exceptionally health-ful seasons in other years. There were eighty-eight fatalities last week in the list published. The current report of the health officer shows an increase of sixteen deaths. Last year almost the same conditions ob-

CREATED A FURORE. Belief in Discovery of Yellow Fever Germ.

A New Orleans dispatch last night says: Dr. O. L. Pothier's announcement that he council. and his colleagues, Drs. Watson and Aume and Professor Couret, have identified what they have reason to believe is the active agent in yellow fever, has created a furore in local medical circles. Some of the older local physicians are inclined to belittle the discovery, and roint to the investigations of Dr. Joseph Jones, former president of the state board of health, when miscroscopic investigations of the blood of yellow fever patients was carried to the point of ascertaining the granular and stellate characteristics of the red corpuscles. Another element hold that the investigations by Dr. Pothier, &c., have carried the process of elimination to such a point that the identity of the cellular forms discovered is practically certain as that of the active agent in yellow fever. Dr. Pothler was silent, save to reiterate what he said last night. His future course will be to trace the cellular form through the mosquito from the time of biting a yellow fever patient to transmitting the disease to another person. Drs. Archinard, Hamilton, Johes and others at work in the Emergency Hospital refused today to say more than that their experiments paralleled, but were not so far advanced as the experiments at the Char-Research is continuing at both hospitals. At the Charity the investigations are now with infected mosquitoes, which are being procured freshly infected. In the Emergency Hospital researches are continuing along the same lines, without regard to the announcement made from the other establishment. The two institutions are working in harmony. Surgeon General Walter Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service showed much interest in the report made by Drs. D. L. Pothier, Joseph Hume, F. H. Watson and M. Couret, as to yellow fever germ. He said: "I know Dr. Pothler and his colleagues as good workers and it looks to me as if they were on the road to success. I cannot say nor do they say themselves that their work is complete. They have published an article in the journal of the American Medical Association, under the title of 'A Preliminary Report on Cells Found in Yellow Fever Blood with Reference to Their Etiologic and Diagnostic Significance. "We also have officers of the service working on the same problems in New Orleans, but I have not heard whether or not they are working on the same lines I hardly expect to hear from them until they are through with their research."

GUILTY OF ASSAULT.

John Johnson Sent to Jail for Year Less One Day. Guilty of an assault on Lillian Washington was the verdict of a jury in the Police Court today in the case of John Johnson. colored. Judge Kimball, after reminding the defendant that he should be glad that he was not being tried for murder, sentenced him to the limit, which the law allows in assault cases, one year less one day in the District jail. The assaul ocurred on August 14. Lilian Washington was walking near a store at 1319 C street, when Johnson, a stranger, accosted her. He was under the influence of liquor, and, in addressing her, used profanity. The girl ordered the man to keep fanity. The girl ordered the man to keep quiet, whereupon he struck her a blow in the stomach with his fist. She staggered and fell, then struggled to her feet and walked down the street a short distance until out of sight of those who had witnessed the assault. Later, after a search by Policeman Ward of the first precinct, the girl was found lying in an unconscious condition in the back yard of 309 13½ street northwest. She was sent to the Emergency Hospital, where she remained Emergency Hospital, where she remained for over a month, most of the time lingering between life and death.

Wm. Gordon Charged With Housebreaking and Placed Under Bond. William Gordon, colored, was held by the Police Court this morning for the action of the grand jury on a charge of housebreaking, and, in default of bond for $1,000, he was committed to jail this afternoon.

The Hagerstown Silk Company shipped a carload of silk to a firm in Richmond last month over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. After the car reached here it was broken into during the night and about $150 worth of silk ribon was taken from it. Part of these were found about forty yards from the car. The robbery was reported to the police of the Anacostia substation and Officer Raedy started an investigation. He learned that Gordon had given some ribbons to a friend in Southwest Washington and he went to the friend to make inquiries. She produced the ribbons and shortly afterward Gordon was arrested. As the goods were identified as part of those missing Gordon was charged with breaking into the

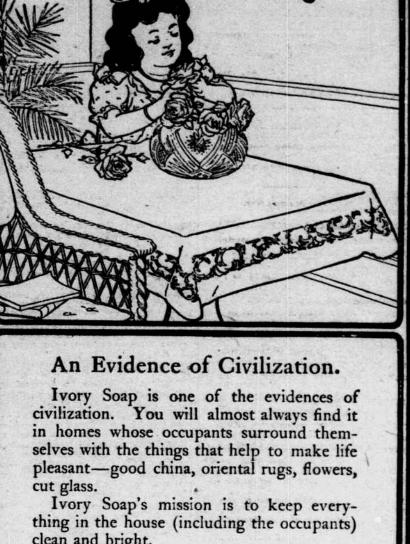

The case was fully presented to Judge Kimball this morning, and at the conclusion of the evidence he considered that a prima facie case had been made out.
